Dear Member of the European Group of Public Law,

The European Review of Public Law (ERPL), the backbone of the EPLO Publications and one of the first initiatives of the European Group of Public Law, is proud to have been published for 35 years now! It has been offering all these years a wide forum of discussion on public law issues covering jurisdictions that relate to the European Union, the national public law and practices, as well as to their mutual interaction and influence but also other jurisdictions that interplay with the European Public Law systems and/or offer relevant comparative insights, an objective that the ERPL has been consistently pursuing throughout all these years.

In achieving its goals, realizing the aims on which it has been conceived in 1989 and taking them even further, the support and interest of all members of the European Group of Public Law, both long-standing and newest members, has been continuous and invaluable and made the ERPL an inseparable and substantial part of the EPLO activities.

We wish to thank you all and invite you to show the same interest and support to the ERPL, so that the Review will continue to achieve its targets and fulfil its commitment.

We are therefore getting in touch with you today in order to invite you to submit articles to the European Review of Public Law and to communicate its activities to your colleagues specializing in the wider area of public law and interested in presenting their work to a multinational audience by submitting an article on a subject falling within the subject-matters dealt with by the *ERPL.

In compliance with the Review's commitment to offering a variety of scientific opinions in a multilingual legal context, texts are accepted in seven languages: English, French, Spanish, Russian, Portuguese, German and Italian. We kindly invite those interested in more details about submissions to the ERPL, to visit the EPLO Publications website at www.eplopublications.eu and more in particular https://eplopublications.eu/page/submissions and the more specific guidelines under ERPL 1. Submissions under this same link.

Submissions - in one of the abovementioned languages - or requests for any further information on the ERPL should be forwarded to the attention of Ms. Katerina Papanikolaou, Director, Editions Office, at: kpapani@eplo.int

We remain committed to the goals of the ERPL and we thank you in advance you for your interest, contribution and support, that will enable the further development of the European Review of Public Law, a common aim of the European Group of Public Law and the EPLO.

Yours sincerely,

The Editorial Board
